

Training overview on multi-stakeholder partnerships

Partnerships2030

Partnerships2030 strengthens existing multi-stakeholder partnerships (MSPs) through advice and exchange, launches new initiatives and provides information on all topics related to successful multi-stakeholder partnerships in both practice and science.

The services also include a comprehensive range of individualised and standardised trainings.

Demand-based, individualised trainings

Partnerships2030 designs and conducts individualised trainings according to your needs – free of charge for you. Such tailor-made training can be flexibly adapted to the respective requirements, both in terms of duration, procedure and content. Possible options are, for example, individual, shorter training units over a longer period of time, full-day trainings or trainings lasting several days. The possible duration varies from one hour to a week. The size of the group is also variable. Training sessions can be conducted face-to-face, virtually or hybrid, and are interactive in all formats. Our trainers (Dr. Minu Hemmati, Como Consult GmbH) will support you with great expertise and will lead the training competently.

The following topics are often addressed in individualised MSP trainings:

- First steps in MSPs
- Institutionalisation and governance of and in MSPs
- Communication structures and decision making in MSPs
- Measuring impact in MSPs
- Legal forms of MSPs

ENGAGEMENT GLOBAL – bengo also offers a comprehensive training programme on MSP. Conducted by the Collective Leadership Institute (CLI), the trainings are targeted at civil society actors who are planning or already implementing an MSP project. Further information on the contents and participation requirements of the programme can be found here.

In addition, trainings are often helpful in the context of communication, team building and trust between the individuals and organisations involved.

Standardised web-based training

In addition to individualized training, Partnerships2030 offers a brand new, free e-learning course.

It teaches the basics of MSP in around 70 minutes of self-study and is available in German, English, Spanish and French. Click here to access the training.
